A GRAPE CREAM OF TARTAR BAKING POWDER

It makes the most delicious and healthful hot breads, biscuit and cake

FREE FROM ALUM, LIME OR PHOSPHATIC ACID

Alum baking powders are unhealthful. Do not use them for raising food under any circumstances. So detrimental are alum baking powders considered, that in most foreign countries their sale is prohibited. In many States in this country the law compels alum powders to be branded to show that they contain this dangerous acid, while in the District of Columbia, Congress has prohibited the sale of all food that contains alum.

Alum baking powders are sold to consumers at from 10 cents a pound to 25 ounces for 25 cents, or 25 cents a pound, and when not branded may generally be distinguished by their price.

A Novel Introduction.

The Dr. Howard Company have entered into an arrangement with L. M. Buehler's drug store, by which a special introductory offer will be made of 25 cents on the 50 cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

This medicine is a new discovery for the cure of all diseases of the stomach and bowels. It not only gives quick relief; it makes permanent cures.

So remarkably successful has Dr. Howard's specific been in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of liver trouble, that L. M. Buehler will return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

The old-fashioned idea of dosing with mineral waters, cathartic pills or harsh purgatives will soon be a thing of the past. The best physicians are prescribing Dr. Howard's specific, both because it is so remarkable a medicine and on account of the small dose that is needed.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on the stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation and all forms of malaria and liver trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

In Memoriam.

This month a year ago, April 11, Miss Alice Powers passed away. On the anniversary of the death of one who gave 44 years of her life to the education of children—the men and women of today—the memory of that life lingers around, as it always shall, like a grateful benediction.

College Base Ball.

The base ball team of Gettysburg College starts in with a record which if maintained will make all previous records look like a three cent piece—old fashioned silver one. The first game was with Lebanon Valley College with a score in our favor of 20 to 6. The second game on last Friday, the first game on the home ground, with Ursinus resulted in a score of 11 to 6 in our favor. The pitchers for home team McDonald and Kauffman are playing in fine shape. On last Saturday Franklin and Marshall lost on their own ground at Lancaster by score of 4 to 2. There are those who have visions of playing the "big league" and running away with the scalp of the University of Pennsylvania at the game to-day in Philadelphia.

D. A. R. Meet.

The Gettysburg Chapter of the D. A. R. met with Mrs. J. L. Butt Thursday April 12. The newly appointed Regent Mrs. Donald P. McPherson presided. Hake, both having been members of the Columbia chapter of West Virginia, have transferred their membership to this chapter. We now number thirty-three members.

APRIL COURT WILL BE SHORT

GRAND JURY MAY HAVE A HALF DOZEN CASES TO HEAR.

Five Civil Cases—Four to be Continued and an Interesting One to be Tried.

If the amount of court business is any indication of the welfare of a people, Adams County ought to be on the top notch with contented and law abiding citizens, living in peace with their neighbors. Both the criminal and civil calendar for April Court next week are short, so very short that it may make some of the court officials, who count upon fees out of weeks of court, conclude that the offices are not what they are cracked up to be, when times are prosperous and citizens are peaceful.

On the criminal calendar there are eleven cases, but one has been dismissed and another settled and prospects are bright it is said for the settlement of about five others and if the grand jury get a shot at a half dozen cases they will be doing well. The cases on the list are as follows:

Com. vs. Victor Benchoff arrested on process, returned by constable as the reputed father of bastard child, Nettie Hardman mother. Upon a hearing of the case before a justice last Thursday, the case was dismissed. That ends that case.

Com. vs. Milton Shue charged with fornication and bastardy on oath of Laura B. Miller has been settled.

Prospects for the settlement of the following cases are said to be good.

Com. vs. Chester J. Pottorff charged with fornication and bastardy on oath of Mary C. Winand.

Com. vs. Fred Hall, charged with assault and battery on oath of Rebecca Hoffman.

Com. vs. Charles Laughman charged with fornication and bastardy on oath of Maggie Lingg.

Com. vs. David Bowers charged with inciting an assault on oath of John A. Davis.

Com. vs. Wm. Richard charged with fornication and bastardy on oath of Velva Stremmel.

The following four cases look certain to go to Grand Jury for action with the possibility of one or two others put in the list as likely to be settled.

Com. vs. John Miller, charged with incestuous rape on oath of Charles H. Wilson. This is case referred to in a recent issue in which daughter makes charge against her own father. The case is tried in the Oyer and Terminer Court which requires a petit jury list of 48 jurors instead of the usual number 36.

Com. vs. John Cromer charged with larceny, breaking into dwelling house on oath of Daniel E. Emlet. Defendant will be indicted under section of code charging a felony.

Com. vs. Wm. Clark, charged with being a tramp.

Com. vs. Wm. Murphy, charged with being a tramp. In these tramp cases Chas. H. Wilson is prosecutor.

Civil Cases.

Five civil cases are on the trial list for April Court, four of them will be continued and one case will be tried. All the cases are appeals from dockets of Justices. The cases that will be continued are Anthony Smith vs. Latimore Hoke, action of assumpsit for labor of $15.90 to which defendant pleads that he does not owe, appeal is from docket of Justice V. H. Lilly.

E. F. Dehoff vs. J. H. Bowers and E. M. Mehring is an action on a note for $37 to which defendants plead non assumpsit, appeal from docket of Justice V. H. Lilly.

Elmer Kepner vs. J. J. Grenoble is an action of assumpsit for claim of $11. Appeal is from docket of Justice Quimby.

The L. M. Alleman Hardware Co. vs. Samuel L. Johns, an action for goods sold and delivered to value of $125.19.

For Thin, Poor Blood

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

But even this grand old medicine cannot do the best work of the body is inactive and the blood is not pure. For the best possible results, you should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with the Sarsaparilla.

Made by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold everywhere.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS.

Appeal is from the docket of Justice J. L. Hill.

The one case to be tried is that of T. O. Loveland and J. L. Records, trading as the Equitable Manufacturing Company vs. C. H. Bittinger. The plaintiff sued before Justice J. L. Hill on a claim of $225 for jewelry bought for store at Bittinger's. The plaintiff is a western firm and depositions have been taken in the west as to facts in the case. The defendant has pleaded that he does not owe.

Visit of State Firemen Officers.

On Tuesday evening of last week there was a meeting of all the committees having charge of the work of preparation for the State Fireman's Convention.

Reports were heard from quite a number of the committees. The finance committee reported encouraging progress and no uneasiness is felt about that line provided every party asked chips in liberally as they have been doing so far.

A large number of letters were read from Fire Companies accepting the invitation that had been sent out and indicating their intentions to be on hand in representative numbers. Several letters from Fire Companies in New Jersey were ready indicating their intention to come.

The matter of accommodations was discussed in the light of a list of those who had indicated their desire to furnish accommodation. If any citizens have not reported their willingness to accommodate and the number they can provide for they should lose no time in turning in this information.

Satisfactory progress along all lines of work seemed to be the result of the evening's review of work done.

On last Wednesday A. J. Henry President of the State Fireman's Association and W. W. Wonders, Secretary and C. H. Cohen, Secretary of the Executive Committee visited this place and met a number of members of the local committees and they were impressed and so expressed themselves with the preparations in progress for the Convention from Oct. 1 to 5 as adequate in every way. This is highly complimentary to Gettysburg in view of the fact that Gettysburg is smallest town in which Convention has ever been held. To be fully prepared however there can be no let up in the work to be done.

WILL CONTEST ENDED

COURT SUSTAINS WILL OF DR. D. MCC. WHITE OF HAMPTON.

Evidence of Undue Influence Was Not Sufficient to Send to Jury.

Judge Swope on Saturday filed an opinion in the matter of the proposed contest of the will of Dr. David McC. White, late of Hampton, denying the issue asked for to contest will on ground of undue influence. He first reviewed the law, that the making of a will was a right of every individual of sound and disposing mind, that contests were to be discouraged rather than encouraged and only when the evidence is strong is a contest allowed. He reviewed the large amount of testimony taken by both sides. That Dr. White by a first marriage had four children, that the children left home and never returned after his second marriage, except one daughter who visited him several years ago. That the second marriage took place 27 years ago. That the will was dictated to Hon. D. S. Chronister during an interview of an hour when no one else was present, that the will had been drafted according to these instructions and when Mr. Chronister read it to him he was satisfied with it. That he delayed the execution and when Mr. Chronister was sent for to witness the signing there was some suggestion from his wife, following a remark by Mr. Chronister that he could make his mark, and in his characteristic way testator told them to shut up that he was able to sign his will and was going to do it. The Court said the only evidence of undue influence was the testimony of Dr. Spatz, detailing a remark of the wife that she would leave him if he did not make a will in her favor. The widow denied this. The Court assuming that it was true said it was not sufficient to frame an issue to go to a jury. That all the testimony showed he was going to make the will as it was made, that he had expressed bitterness toward his children and his purpose to leave his estate to his wife and there was no undue influence shown by remark of wife, for it was along the line of what Dr. White had asserted he intended to do.

Dealer Praises Weaver Piano.

Mr. G. C. Ashbach, one of the most substantial dealers in eastern Pennsylvania, writes as follows to the manufacturers of the Weaver Piano: "You have indeed a piano that you can well feel proud of. It compares very favorably with anything we have on our floor, and you know we handle a number of the finest makes. As long as you make so excellent a piano you certainly deserve the patronage of the legitimate dealer who still strives to uphold the dignity of the music business." Mr. Ashbach has made a life study of pianos and knows whereof he speaks. His opinion can be trusted without risk. Send for catalogue of this modern aristocrat among pianos. Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Made from Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

In baking powder Royal is the standard, the powder of highest reputation; found by the United States Government tests of greatest strength and purity.

It renders the food more healthful and palatable and is most economical in practical use.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy alum powders because they are "cheap." Yet some of the cheapest made powders are sold to consumers at the highest price.

Housekeepers should stop and think. Is it not better to buy the Royal and take no chances—the powder whose goodness and honesty are never questioned?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion by an alum-phosphate or other adulterated powder to save a few pennies?

HIGHLAND HAS SUPERVISORS

Hammers' Hall, April 9.—Saturday night April 7, the citizens of the township of Highland met at the Stone Church school house and selected Frank Drais, Robt. K. Stultz and Chas. Spangler to fill the offices of supervisors. These men now will appoint men to fill the offices of road masters, so the supervisors will look after the road masters and the road masters after the men that do the work, so we gain this advantage in the new law, one man to work and six to look on. Under the old law the supervisors were the whole thing, look, stock and barrel. Had the new law simply compelled the farmer to pay his road tax in money under the old supervisor system, in place of working it out, it would have been all that would have been necessary. Two men could have done the work under the old law just as easily as six under the new, and save a lot of money to the taxpayers.

S. S. W. Hammers was in the city on Monday laying in his spring stock of goods.

The regular quarterly council meeting at Pfoutz's Church at Marsh Creek will take place on Saturday, April 14, beginning at 10 o'clock a.m. Delegates to the district and annual meeting will be elected at this council.

Squire Hammers took in last week over 300 dozen eggs. If every store in the county would average that amount what would the amount be collected in one week.

Sarah, wife of Elder C. L. Pfoutz, who has been sick for some time, was somewhat better on Monday last.

Cattle Examined.

Dr. Moriarty, inspector for the State Live Stock Sanitary Board, examined and tested with the tuberculin test last week the fine herd of Jersey and Guernsey cattle, 14 in number, owned by Hon. C. L. H. C. SANDERS
GEO. COBEAN
PRES. TATE.

Gettysburg, Pa. March 26th, 1906.

The Auditors of the Borough of Gettysburg further report, that they have attempted to examine and audit the Stable Charity fund, but that by reason of the method of collecting the distribution of the proceeds of this fund they have been unable to satisfactorily report on same.

They desire to call the attention of the Town Council to the fact that no records of this fund are kept by the Borough treasurer. In the opinion of the Auditors the Borough Council, through its several committees, holds and manages this money as trustee and as such the accounts kept in connection with it should be audited by the proper borough auditors and not by the trustees through its committees. This fund, should, we believe be placed in the hands of the Borough treasurer and disbursements made by orders drawn on him in such manner as the council may deem proper. Until this is done the Auditors cannot pass intelligently upon the account.

SAVED BABY LYON'S LIFE

Untold Suffering and Constant Misery—Awful Slight From that Dreadful Complaint, Infantile Eczema—Commenced at Top of his Head and Covered Entire Body.

MOTHER PRAISES CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Our baby had that dreadful complaint, Infantile Eczema, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we would not have done to have given him relief. The family doctor seemed to be wholly incapable of coping with the case, and after various experiments of his, which resulted in no benefit to the child, we sent to Mazon, Ill., to a druggist and got a full set of the Cuticura Remedies and applied as per directions, and he began to improve immediately, and in about three or four days began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time in a year. In about ninety days he was fully recovered, with the exception of a rough skin, which is gradually disappearing, and eventually will be replaced by a healthy one."

"Praise for the Cuticura Remedies has always been our greatest pleasure, and there is nothing too good that we could say in their favor, for they certainly saved our baby's life, for he was the most awful sight that I ever beheld, prior to the treatment of the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Maebelle Lyon, 1826 Appleton Ave., Parsons, Kan., July 18, 1905."

COMPLETE TREATMENT $1

Complete external and internal treatment for every humor, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, may now be had for one dollar. I'm tired of dinging and dinging,
I'm tired of the traffic and din,
The crowding and cramming and thronging,
The struggle and folly and sin;
The belt and the bell and the bustle,
The buzz and the clang and the roar—
'Tis a vain and a brain-racking tussle
That makes me disheartened and sore.

Laughter as an Aid to Digestion.

Nothing else will take the place of good cheer and laughter at meals or any other time in the home. There is a vital connection between amiability and digestion—between good cheer and assimilation. Laughter is the best friend the liver has, and depression, or melancholia, its worst enemy. Numerous experiments have shown that mirth and cheerfulness stimulate the secretion of the gastric juices, and are powerful aids to digestion. Yet, knowing this, many of us sit as gloomy and absorbed at the table as at a funeral. In many homes, scarcely a word is spoken at meals, outside of requests for an article of food.

The meal hour ought to mean something besides the supplying a mere animal function. The bell which calls the family to the table ought to be the signal for a good time generally, when all cares should be thrown off and everybody appear at his best. It ought to signalize the time for mirth and laughter. It ought to be looked forward to by the members of the family as the recess or nooning is looked forward to by pupils in school, as a let-up from the strenuous life.—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

What is the Coal Trust.

In the first of two articles on "The Coal Trust, the Labor Trust and the People Who Pay," in the April "Everybody's," Hartley Davis thus describes the greatest monopoly of the age:

"The Coal Trust is a scant half dozen years old. Yet it owns 85 per cent of the coal in the ground, and controls 95 per cent; it owns a perpetual franchise to mine and distribute; it owns the labor of thousands of men and boys; it owns the men who used to be known as 'independent operators,' then as 'operators' merely; it owns the railroads that transport the coal; it owns the selling machinery. It decides how much coal shall be taken from the ground, where it shall be shipped and how, what the carrying charges shall be and the selling price. It can foretell what the minimum price will be five years from now in New York or at a way station in Minnesota. The maximum price it would not predict, for that depends upon 'economic conditions,' meaning, in this instance, the ability of the public to pay. Actually the trust has perfected a system whereby the price of a million tons delivered in New York or half a wagon-load sold a farmer from an elevator at a way station on the prairies of North Dakota is fixed with equal certainty and rigidity. It determines the exact profit both of the New York wholesaler and of the little retailer in the smallest community. It knows every item of cost down to the fraction of a cent, from the mine to the consumers coal bin. Those poor, ignorant dealers who labored under the foolish delusion that they had a right to do business as they saw fit, and who sought to augment their total profits by cutting prices to increase sales, have swiftly been shown the error of their ways. The mon-mankind would have to invent milk. Milk is Nature's emulsion—butter put in shape for digestion. Cod liver oil is extremely nourishing, but it has to be emulsified before we can digest it.

combines the best oil with the valuable hypophosphites so that it is easy to digest and does far more good than the oil alone could. That makes Scott's Emulsion the most strengthening, nourishing food—medicine in the world.

Easter Pilgrims in Jerusalem.

Two Americans stood in the Chapel of the Holy Sepulcher on the afternoon of Easter Day. They were chatting in subdued voices and referring frequently to their guide book. No one would call them Pilgrims, they were simply sight seers. Turning around to leave the room, a Russian woman was seen standing in a corner as far away from the Sepulcher as she could get. Dressed in the common garb of a peasant, including the heavy boots, she carried no book to describe the place. She needed none, she knew more than the book could have told her, she believed more than the authors knew. Tears streamed from her eyes and flowed without restraint over her coarse garments, she was near the place where the body of her Lord had rested and a holy hush overshadowed her soul.

Throughout the church the pilgrims were kneeling, kissing rapturously, even passionately, the "Stone of Union," upon which it is said the body of Jesus was laid when prepared for burial in Joseph's tomb. The slab upon which torrents of kisses and tears are rained is of beautiful marble, red and pink mottled, and lies upon the real ajoining stone. Not only is this stone one of the most sacred relics of the world, but it has also one interest unlike that of any other. Every day during their stay in Jerusalem the pilgrims may be seen at this stone with rolls of white cloth, which they lay upon the slab, and cut off pieces exactly its length. These pieces are dipped in the Jordan and preserved to be the burial shrouds of the owners.—Rev. John Bancroft Devins in Woman's Home Companion for April.

Alaska's Riches.

Alaska has every indication of a bright future. It has a population of 65,000 spread over an area of 329,529,000 acres, about two-thirds of which lie in the North Temperate zone, and instead of being a barren, frigid country, as popularly supposed, the greater part of it is rich, fertile, and well adapted for farming and stock raising. It is one of the richest mineral sections of the world, having produced gold alone to the amount of $25,000,000 a year. Its fish industry amounts to $10,000,000 annually. Recent discoveries of oil regions in Alaska have been made, indicating that probably a new field of wealth is simply waiting development. It has vast forests of valuable timber, and large deposits of coal have been found, which, too, give great promise. In brief, Alaska is a territory of almost unlimited natural resources, by virtue of which it is destined to become the most valuable possession of the United States, and of the many agencies that will contribute largely to the development of Alaska, not the least powerful will be its excellent telegraph system.—John F. Tinsley in "Sunset Magazine" for March.

Growing Water Lilies from Seed.

Many of the choicest water lilies, even the magnificent Victoria regia, may be grown from seed. For many years the seed of this lily, when brought to this country, failed to germinate.

It was finally found that by bottling the seeds in the water of the river in which they grew they could be transported safely from the waters of the Amazon to the far west. Here the lily is usually grown with bottom heat, as it is very tender. Seeds started in pots in a temperature of 90 degrees will germinate in about two weeks and may be planted out in the open air when the nights have become warm—usually about the 1st of June—and will bloom the same summer, but cannot be carried through the winter, but must be started afresh each season, either by the purchase of plants or the sowing of seed, the latter being, of course, much more economical, as seeds may be purchased for a few nickels apiece, the plants costing as many dollars.—American Homes and Gardens.

Is Witte a Failure?

"Witte: A Great Man Facing Failure," by Percival Gibbon in "McClure's" for April is a paper for every person who pretends to keep pace with the progress of events. Mr. Gibbon throws new light on this great, melancholy struggler. Witte is a failure, he says, and he knows Witte. He has seen a good deal of him during these months of revolution and intrigue since he returned from the greatest diplomatic victory of modern times, at Portsmouth. Gibbon's assertion is daring, and although you may be inclined to doubt its justice, you are likely to surrender before you have finished, for he is writing from the inside, and these facts, which have not been before published are convincing. He takes you into Witte's quarters in the Winter Palace; you see him before the deputation of working men; you understand his dangerous footing on the narrow ledge between the people and the Beaucroats; you grasp the handicap of ill-health, at this time when most of all he needs his physical resources; you end by agreeing that the chances of his success are indeed small. "Big and gross add bony," says Gibbon, "he is a strong man and a great one; and here he is—at his finish." The personal description of Count Witte is quite the most intimate and striking that has ever been published. One would think that everything of interest had been written about this strange man's life, but even in sketching his career Mr. Gibbon has something new to say. It has long been the popular impression that this greatest of Russians is of lowly origin. This article pricks that bubble, it gives Witte's genealogy connected with several of the greatest houses of Russia. Altogether this is a timely article. It has something new to say, and it says it plainly.

The Web of Venice.

In Venice one is as if caught in an immense network, or spider's web, which, as one walks in its midst, seems to tighten the closer about one. The streets narrow overhead, push outward with beams and stone balconies and many-tinting angles; seem to loosen their hold for a moment where a bridge crosses a narrow canal between high walls and over dark water, and then tighten again in close lanes where the smells of the shops meet and fume about one's face. The lanes are busy with men in rough clothes and with women in shawls, bare-headed, and with great soft bushes of hair, who come and go quietly, slipping past one another in these narrow spaces, where there is hardly room to pass, as the gondolas slip past one another in the narrow canals. The road is difficult to find, for a single wrong turning may lead one to the other end of Venice. This movement, the tangles of the way, the continual arresting of one's attention by some window, doorway, or balcony, put a strain upon one's eyes, and begin after a time to tire and stupefy the brain. There is no more bewildering city, and, as night comes on, the bewilderment grows almost disquieting.—From "The Waters of Venice," by Arthur Symonds, in the April "Scribners."

Getting Started as a Milliner.

Given a knack and a little knowledge of millinery, nothing is easier to get started in than the bonnet business. The hat shop is a delightfully clean place, one where artistic tastes have opportunity to show themselves and to earn a good income for their fortunate possessor. It is commonly thought that millinery is a matter requiring capital, and so it is if the milliner must begin on a large scale.

Granted, however, that she must not, cannot, but on the contrary must climb into the hat business without capital, she may become a visiting milliner, go from house to house, use "ladies' own material" and furnish up old hats until she has laid by a small sum of money.

The next step in this self-making process is the stage of taking orders. Doubtless many of the girls' customers—those she has worked for in their own homes—have now come to trust her judgment and admire her taste. So when she asks them to order their hats through her, letting her do the work at her own home, and looking for acceptance "on approval," her necessities are wearing journeys from house to house are at an end. She buys materials with her little capital, makes her hats and delivers them. Her profit now is considerably larger than when she worked with "ladies' own material."

And then some day she is rich enough to rent a shop and make her hat in it instead of in her bedroom.—Harriet Martin in "The New Idea Woman's Magazine" for April.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

GIBSON PICTURE FAD SEIZES COLLECTORS

Takes Place of Post Card Craze With the Young Women.

The Gibson picture habit has been effectively fastened on a big proportion of the reading population of this section by the publication by the Sunday North American of ten of the latest of this great American artist's pictures as art supplements. It has started the Gibson collection fad, and this promises to last until the last of the pictures are out.

There was a time when the Gibson girl was the idol of the young woman. Now the Gibson art supplement gives everybody an opportunity to collect the artist's works, and there will be few homes that will not have a good representation within the next few weeks.

For the time being the collection of Gibson drawings has taken the place of the collection of post cards in Philadelphia, and the fad is certain to spread to all of the towns where the pictures are made so easily obtainable.

The picture which The North American is to issue next Sunday is "A Castle in the Air." It is one of the most beautiful of Gibson's works, and teaches a moral lesson to young people of all ages.

Biliousness, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, disturbed sleep, nervousness, headache, dizziness and drowsiness, wind and pain or fullness of the stomach after meals, and chills and flushings of heat, shortness of breath—these are the blank cheques of physical bankruptcy.

The man who suffers from these disorders and neglects them will soon be in the relentless grasp of some fatal disease. If he is naturally narrow chested and shallow lunged, it will probably be consumption; if his father or mother died of paralysis or some nervous trouble, it will probably be nervous exhaustion or prostration, or even insanity; if there is a taint in the family blood, it will be blood or skin disease; if he lives in a new or a low, swampy country, it will be malaria; if he lives a life of exposure, it may be rheumatism. There is one safe course for a man to follow who finds himself "out of a wits" and suffering from the symptoms described. It is to resort to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This medicine makes the appetite keen, corrects all disorders of the digestion, renders assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up healthy flesh and nerve tissue. It cures almost all diseases that result from insufficient or improper nourishment of the brain and nerves. Bronchial throat, and even lung affections, when not too far advanced, readily yield to it.

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from sleeplessness, nervousness, indigestion, and other ailments. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a gentle laxative, and two mild cathartics. Don't let a single day pass without taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ailments of the bowels and is sold by all druggists.

FUMIGATE THE MONEY.

Here is a wise innovation which has been adopted by banking institutions in some other towns, that the money be regularly fumigated. A tin box is constructed with a double bottom. In the lower apartment formaldehyde is placed, in the upper one a quantity of money. The money is left in the box over night and the fumes of the formaldehyde gas kills all possible disease germs. It is a simple inexpensive method and is something that tends towards the conservation of the public health.

CONGRESSIONAL POINTERS.

Congressman Lafean in naming Postmaster McIlhenny as his own successor for four years, several months ago, said what in effect meant that he could be elected to Congress whenever he pleased without a vote from Adams, or to quote him literally "without help from Adams." Several ways this game is played. Reports from York say that Congress will make an appropriation for a site for a government building in York. Then if that city wants the building Lafean will agree to get it provided he is re-elected. After May 1st 15 new rural routes will be started from different post offices throughout York county. With the 77 already in operation there will be a total of 92 routes in York county, and they will give just about 92 Lafean arguments for re-election. So Lafean evidently meant what he was talking about when metaphorically saying that Adams county was small potatoes.

NEW STORE OPENED.

Aspers, April 16—Naylor Brothers opened their new store here the beginning of last week and are receiving new goods daily. A good line of hardware will be handled by them which will certainly receive much patronage. Henry Naylor Sr., after spending much of the winter with his son George, at Double Pipe Creek, Md., has come home to spend the spring with his sons at this place.

Waybright Rice one of the appointed supervisors for Menallen township, was busy with a force of hands last week repairing many of the roads around this place.

John W. Bucher has his new slaughter house completed and has bought quite a lot of fat cattle which will soon be made ready for his new wagon.

Mrs. Webb Guise of Harrisburg, spent Saturday and Sunday with the family of Eli D. Guise.

H. C. Gulden, who had been on the sick list is now much improved.

Not often three houses in a stretch are left without tenants, yet this occurs in Menallen. The tenant houses of C. L. Osborne, B. F. Wilson and farm house of John Epplenman, Jr. are left without occupants this season.

Elmer H. Miller is very ill at this writing as is also Mrs. Harry J. Gulden.

Levi Crum has placed a new wire fence along the public road the length of his farm.

Nurserymen are now busy marketing their trees. Jerry Taylor is buying and supplying the market at Harrisburg and R. S. Little is hauling to Carlisle market.

Harry Epplenman has had a new iron fence erected around his yard as has also J. J. Rex.

Edward S. Houck recently made a visit to his mother, Mrs. Alice M. Houck. He is now employed at Nashville.

Filmore Peters is engaged making fences around his new houses at this place on which painters are now engaged.

Taylor Hinkle, youngest son of Mrs. Mary Hinkle, aged about 20 years and a brakeman on the G. and H. R. R. died of measles at Harrisburg on Saturday and was buried at Mt. Tabor cemetery near this place Monday morning.

We had a very heavy rainfall on Saturday night which has greatly raised the streams and will keep the farmers out of their fields for a few days.

Although April is half gone our farmers have not yet begun sowing oats.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's. "I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARNETT, 14 Olney St., Providence, R. I.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

FOUNTAINDALE ITEMS.

Fountaindale, April 16—C. A. Sprengle is having a long distance telephone installed in his residence.

Chas. McIntire made a business trip to Baltimore recently.

Mrs. Mahala Watson moved to Fountaindale to keep house for Mr. L. Haddleigh.

Miss Mollie Kepner is staying at Mrs. McIntire's.

During one of the recent storms a "stranger" came to the Fountaindale Inn and he is presumed to stay. At this writing Mrs. and Master are doing well.

Letter to D. Blocher & Co., Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sirs: Currie Hardware Co., Atlantic City, N. J., had been dealing in paint for more than twenty years; and last year found-out Devoe. This is how they did it.

Bought two cans, took-off the labels, sent to a chemist for analysis.

The chemist found it pure; and they took our agency.

That is the way to find out a paint; but not every dealer can do it. There ought to be public provision for making good things known without cost. It's a pity American citizens haven't got it. The people want it, even more than the trade.

Yours truly F. W. DEVOE & Co.

P. S.—Thos. J. Winebiennet sells our paint.

A Matrimonial Sand Bar

[Copyright, 1905, by I. D. Marshall.]

When the good wife of Deacon Samuel Bradshaw departed this life and its trials and tribulations it was Miss Mary Jones, spinster, who came over and took charge of things for three or four days. She had known the deacon and his wife for several years, and it was reported that when the wife found herself dying she said to Mary:

"I am going to that better land. I am glad on my own account that I am going, but sorry on Samuel's. He will be left all alone, and how he will get his shirts washed, his cooking done and his bed made I don't know. You must be kind to him, Mary, and a year or so after I am gone should he ask you—should he ask you?"

But she got no further. After the funeral and as the weeks went by some folks interpreted this to mean that Miss Jones was to marry the deacon if he asked her and others that she was only to oversee his house.

For ten months the deacon himself gave no sign of how he personally interpreted it. Then it was noticed that he began to walk home with Mary from church and prayer meeting and pay her other little attentions. She was living with a brother who was married, and by and by the deacon became a frequent caller. When a full year had gone by Uncle Joe Tracy, who was known to be a pillar of goodness as well as the biggest gossip in the country, stopped the deacon on the village street one day to say:

"Look a-here, Samuel, I'm a-bearin' that you are sorter shinin' up to Mary Jones."

"Well, it's my business if I am," was the blunt reply.
"So it is, Samuel—so it is, but don't you make no mistake on Mary Jones. She lived with us for four years when she was a gal, and I'm tellin' you she's got a worse temper than a sore footed cat."

"I hadn't seen no signs of it."
"And maybe you won't till you are married, but it's there, just the same. She's expectin' to marry you, and she's as soft and smooth as 'lasses, but when you are married it will be a different thing. She'll let her temper loose and make your hair stand up."

"I don't believe a word of it, and I don't thank ye for your gossip," observed the deacon as he broke away.

One moonlight night a week after his talk with Uncle Joe the deacon invited the spinster out for a row on the river. It wasn't much of a river nor much of a boat, and the deacon wasn't much of a hand at the oars, but it seemed the proper thing to do under the romantic occasion. The whippoorwills were singing, the harvest moon blinking and the weeping willows waving their plumes in the soft night air as they set out, and everything went well for ten minutes. Then Miss Jones suddenly discovered that the boat was leaking and that she had already got one of her feet wet. The deacon was sorry, but as far as he knew all rowboats leaked, and people who went out in them had to make the best of it. He bent to his oars to keep time with the whippoorwills, but he hadn't been rowing five minutes when he flirited one of them out of the water and at the same time flirited about a gallon of the briny over Mary.

"Deacon Bradshaw!" she called out as she rose up.

"I am sorry, but I couldn't help it."
"But you ought to have helped it. It was very clumsy in you. I'm all wet through, and we must turn back this minute. I don't believe you know any thing about a boat."

"If you hadn't been bobbing around it wouldn't have happened."

"I wasn't bobbing around. I say I want to go right back home."

The deacon started to pull the boat around and lost an oar. In trying to recover that one he not only came within an ace of upsetting the boat, but lost the other.

"Why don't you jump out?" shouted the spinster at him.

"Because the water here is over my head and I can't swim."

"Then what are we going to do? Deacon Bradshaw, you are nothing but a blunderer!"

"Nobody could have done any different. You were bobbing this way and that, and—"

"I wasn't bobbing! You ought to be ashamed of yourself to try to lay it on to me. Ain't you going to do any thing?"

"The only thing we can do is to wait for the boat to drive ashore."

"And how long will that be?"

"No telling. If you hadn't been talking about the moonlight on the water I should never have asked you to come out rowing. I guess you'll get moonlight enough."

Miss Jones didn't answer this taunt. She kept getting madder and madder, but she concealed the fact until the boat finally grounded on a sand bar in midstream. When they had both scrambled ashore she found her voice. She called the deacon names until she had rattled off a hundred of them. She expressed her pity for the wife dead and gone and more pity for the wife to come. She criticised his personal appearance, his grammar and the shoes on his feet, and she talked so fast that he couldn't get in a word edgewise. He stood there and took it for a quarter of an hour and had just got ready to say that she was no lady when she plunged into the water up to her waist and waded ashore and called to him from the bank as she set off for home, two miles away.

"Oh, I'd like to be married to you for about two hours! Wouldn't I learn you what was what?"

But they never married.

The Modern Wife and the Money Question.

Usually it is the shadow of money that brings the first partial eclipse to the honeymoon, and unless the problem is rightly handled the eclipse may become total. The modern wife cannot be always asking for money and retain either her happiness or her self-respect. The husband could not keep his business going if he did not have a pay-day for his employees or if he was careless about settling his bills. He cannot expect to keep his house going without a financial agreement that will give it regularity and security. It is passing strange that this matter should be a constant difficulty in millions of homes, but it is a hardship which wives are supposed to bear uncomplainingly. She is a wise woman who retracts early and secures her rights, for she will never be a successful wife until she has her part of the income without days of grace or discounts. This is important; it is vital. Unless it is made plain and duly fixed, all her other purposes and aspirations will be forever handicapped.—From the April "Deliberator."

Lincoln's Bar Record.

In his twenty-three years at the bar Lincoln had no less than 169 cases before the highest court of Illinois, a record unsurpassed by his contemporaries; he appeared before the United States Circuit and District Courts with great frequency; he was the most indefatigable attendant on the Eighth circuit, and tried more cases than any other member of that bar; he was attorney for the Illinois Central Railroad, the greatest corporation in the State, and one which doubtless had its choice of legal talent; he was also counsel for the Rock Island Railroad and other corporations and individuals with important legal interests at stake; he was sought as legal arbitrator in the great corporation litigations of Illinois, and he tried some of the most notable cases recorded in the courts of that State.—From Frederick Trevor Hill's "Lincoln the Lawyer" in the April Century.

Human Blood Marks.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well-known merchant of Dan, Ky. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemorrhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by all druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

A Boon to Humanity.

Mr. Thomas J. Coughlan of Lakeland, N. Y., in a letter takes occasion to say: "I have derived great benefit from the use of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters when suffering from indigestion and loss of appetite. I can also heartily recommend the bitters as a blood purifier. It certainly is a boon to humanity."

Baxter's Mandrake Bitters has accomplished wonders for suffering humanity. It has rescued thousands of despairing victims of disease. Sold everywhere in liquid or tablet form at 25 cents. L. M. Buehler.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE BEST AND MOST POPULAR.—"Mothers buy it for coughing children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for laziness," say Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but this medicine is the best that can be prepared for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold at Huber's Drug Store.

A FIGHT is on for the $400 found in the old toll-rate house kept by Minerva White at Mt. Holly. On one side it is sought to pay it to the State for want of heirs and since such proceedings began alleged heirs from the South have appeared.

ABOUT RHEUMATISM.—There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale at Huber's Drug Store.

OUR LANGUAGE.

The Words a Man Uses and the Words He Might Employ.

How many words are possible? Starting from the four and twenty alphabetic sounds, Leibnitz calculated the combinations at 620,448,701,733,239,739,390,000. But many of these combinations would be unpronounceable even in Welsh. In Chinese every syllable is a separate word.

Does man's stock of words grow richer or poorer with time? M. Moncanu foresees an ever higher intellectual destiny for the race in the future. "Our fathers," he says, "did not know the thousandth part of our vocabulary, which is very copious." Certainly the New Dictionary is a much larger work than Johnson's, and we doubt not that primitive man talked less than an M. P. does, though even he had his palavers and congresses. But if any one were to take down the talk of an average modern undergraduate or society girl we doubt if it would be found to contain more than 250 vocables, where an educated Elizabethan or Caroline would have employed several thousand. Nothing is more striking in the old prose writers than the rich variety and imaginative picturesqueness of their language. Not only are we lacking in concrete imagination and ashamed to go afield out of the beaten track of speech, but phrases which were when first devised forcible and strong have through long currency lost their edge. Three-fourths of the expressions we use have ceased to be effective metaphors and become conventional and lifeless.—London Saturday Review.

ALCOHOL IN BREAD.

Enough to Give One About Four Pints of Whisky a Year.

"You consume four pints of whisky a year," said the amateur chemist. "Now, don't be angry or shocked. I know that you're a strict teetotaler, but just the same I know that you've absorbed that much alcohol. How? Well, simply by eating bread."

"It has long been known that the fermentation of bread caused the formation of alcohol, but it was supposed that it passed from the dough during the process of baking. Several scientists have proved that bread, when ready for eating, contains an average of .800 per cent of alcohol to the loaf. You must remember that in many countries strong liquors are brewed from bread. Kvass, the mild Russian beer, is brewed from brown bread."

"Now, if you eat 400 loaves of bread every year you must perforce have assimilated twenty ounces of alcohol, which equals four pints of rye whisky. 'In ten years,' concluded the amateur chemist impressively, 'you have eaten 4,000 loaves of bread, and in that number of loaves is about 200 ounces of alcohol, or the equivalent to nineteen quarts of whisky. Think of the saturnalia you have been on for the last ten years, and you never knew enough to complain of a big head in the morning.'—New York Press.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
